PROFILE

I work for Mfumu Investments as the Mobile Application Administrator for CallAFix, an on-demand marketplace that connects customers in Windhoek with skilled artisans. Alongside the job, I'm studying Computer Science (Software Development) at NUST. I'm organized and adaptable, and I'm at my best solving practical problems, whether that's in code, a database, a design file or a video edit.

EXPERIENCE

Mobile Application Administrator

Current role

CallAFix · Mfumu Investments · Windhoek, Namibia

CallAFix is an on-demand service marketplace that connects customers with skilled artisans.

- Tested the CallAFix app ahead of launch and reported the results in a Phase 1 testing report.
- Wrote the application baseline documentation, covering features, architecture and a nine-phase exploration plan.
- Help recruit and onboard artisans onto the platform through lead tracking, WhatsApp and SMS outreach, and clear answers to common concerns.
- Reach out to vocational training centres to connect with qualified artisans.
- Created launch material, including a 90-day go-to-market plan, call-out fee market research, an artisan registration deck, and onboarding guides for customers and providers.
